Our Story:

It is clear that the Prince William Islamic Center (PWIC), a nonprofit organization, has been a cornerstone of the Manassas community for nearly two decades. Building a space that balances spiritual growth with the goal of creating "responsible members of society" is no small feat—especially since the establishment in 2007.

Core Pillars of PWIC:

- Longevity & Trust: Serving the Virginia Muslim community for 18+ years as a registered non-profit.
- Inclusivity: A welcoming "open-door" policy for Muslims of all backgrounds, focusing on unity and communication.
- Education-First: A heavy emphasis on Islamic Education as a tool for personal and social development.
- Generational Focus: Dedicated programs for children, youth, and adults to ensure the entire family has a path toward being a positive example in society.
